

United States Department of State

Global Employment Initiative

We connect your organization to over 3,000 highly skilled, multilingual, globally experienced professionals in over 200 locations worldwide at NO COST to you.

Since 2002, the Global Employment Initiative (GEI) has successfully placed hundreds of professionals in Fortune 500 companies, non-profit organizations, educational institutions, and a wide range of other local and international organizations.

Through this initiative, the U.S. Department of State employs regional and locally based Global Employment Advisors worldwide. These advisors work with U.S. Foreign Service family members to match their skills and experience with employers in the countries where they are living. Our Global Employment Advisors will help you recruit the best mobile talent at no cost to you.

GLOBAL talent

LOCAL hire

Advantages to your Organization

Our candidates are available full time, part-time, or contractually.

Our professionals do not require funding for relocation or housing as they are already in-country.

We can often obtain local work permits through diplomatic channels at no cost to your organization.

We do not charge any overhead or placement fees.

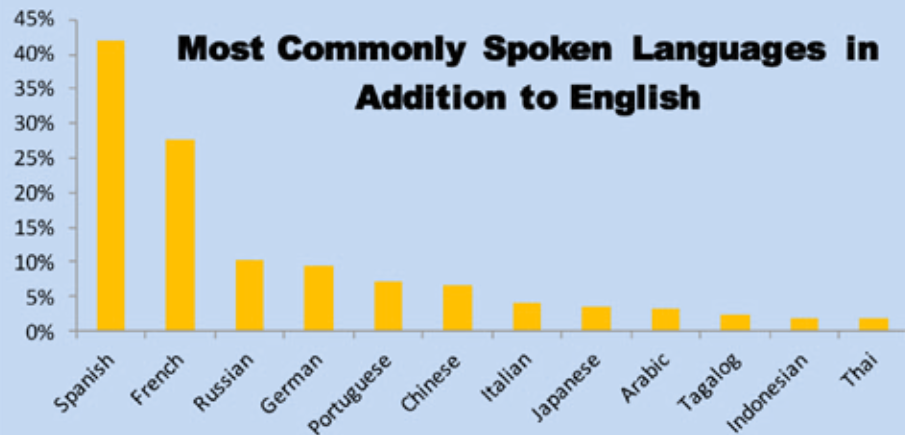

Global Employment Initiative

To find out more about our program and the skilled professionals available in your area — send an email to GEI@state.gov or visit our website:

www.state.gov/m/dghr/flo/c21627.htm

DIVERSE TALENT

54% of our clients speak more than one language

40%

of our candidates have master's degrees or higher

75%

of our candidates have bachelor's degrees

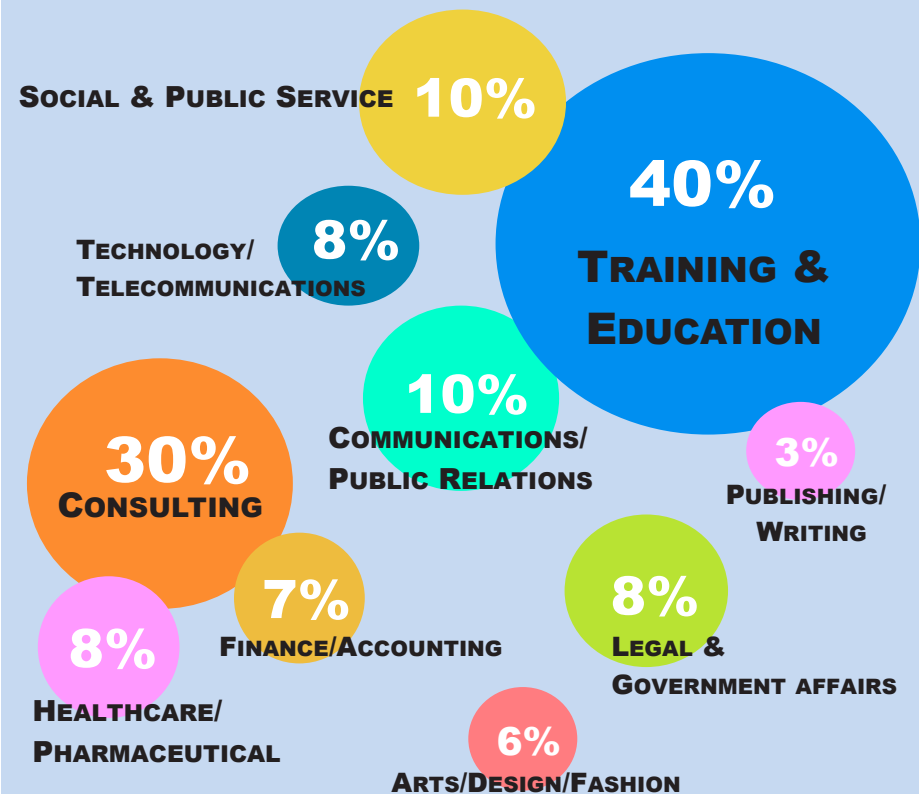

25%

of our candidates have foreign credentials or other education

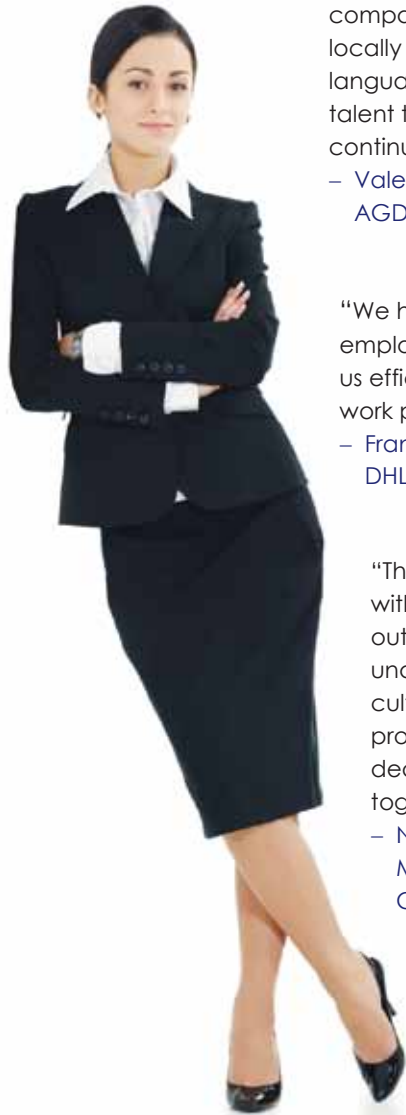

DIVERSE EXPERTISE

Source: FLO Family Member Employment Survey.
* Some individuals surveyed reported skills in more than one area

"Diversity of talent may be the most important asset for businesses today." — BOB MORITZ, CHAIRMAN AND SENIOR PARTNER, PriceWaterhouseCoopers, Diversity Inc. Magazine, Summer 2011

What Employers Are Saying About GEI:

"GEI makes good business sense. Multi-national companies can recruit globally experienced, locally based employees with native English language skills. Deloitte Argentina has hired top talent through this cost-free program and will continue its alliance."

– Valeria Silvestroni, HR Lead
AGDC, Buenos Aires

"We have always engaged impressive employees through the GEI. The program gave us efficient and exemplary support with the work permit process."

– Francis Saldanha, HR Manager
DHL Express, Kuwait

"This service has proven to yield candidates with an international perspective, outstanding interpersonal skills, an understanding of the host country and culture, and bounds of enthusiasm. GEI provides the human touch that is vital when dealing with people and connecting parties together."

– Nada Zaki, Deputy Principal
Manor House American School
Cairo, Egypt

Participating Companies*

Corporations

Barclays	IBM
Canon Korea Business Solutions	LexisNexis
Clements Worldwide	McAfee
COSPAI Engineering and Construction	McGraw-Hill
Deloitte	Sanitas
DHL	Santander Bank
Ernst & Young	Servitel
Experian	SupplyCore Middle East
Gulf Civilization Company	Volvo International

Non-Governmental Organizations

ACDI/VOCA	Brussels Philharmonic Orchestra
Ashoka	Tel Aviv Museum of Art
The British Museum	Save the Children
Care UK

Educational Institutions

American International School	EAN University
American University of Rome	Harvard University Library
American University in Cairo	International College of Spain
Australian College of Kuwait	London School of Economics
Cairo American College	University of Wisconsin

International Organizations

Food and Agriculture Organization (UN)	UNICEF
United Nations Development Program	UN Truce Supervision Organization
American Red Cross	World Food Program

*This is a partial list of companies that successfully employ GEI candidates.

Family Liaison Office

Harry S Truman Building
2201 C Street, NW, Suite 1239
Washington, DC 20520, USA

Phone: (202) 647-1076

Email: GEI@state.gov

Website: <http://www.state.gov/m/dghr/flo/c21627.htm>

February 2012